NEW YORK Dec. 8 .- The dealings in the Stock Market upon the opening of business today were fairly animated and they resulted in irregular price changes little or nothing in the actual news of the morning bearing upon the financial situation, bu, expectations were common that the surplus reserves of the banks would be shown to be seriously depleted in today's statement, and it was chiefly on this account that the noted tendency of the market existed.

When the statement appeared, there was some covering of shorts to take profits and the closing prices were better than the worst. In a few instances net gains were made for the day. This was due partly also no doubt to the action of the Secretary of the Treasury in anticipating february interest payments which Open. High. Low. Clos. January 9.64 9.69 9.64 9.65 the January interest payments, which will amount to $5,000,000, and will be paid on December 15. It is thought that this action may help the situation somewhat though it is not likely that it will have much effect, except in the indirect way. There may be some recovery on Monday, but careful market people look for a further dealing in right of the believe the delivery in the recovery of the state of the stat ther decline in prices before the holidays. They will buy stocks on this decline for the January advance which is expected to be a fine one.

Tennessee Coal and Iron was egain the weak feature of the list, selling as low as 56 1-2. There are a number of rumors in the Street regarding the stock, but whether they are the cause or the effect of the decline in the price it is hard to discover. The story is put out by one bear party that the dividend on the stock is to be cut on account of alleged purchases stock.

The deciaration states that in April, 1899, Mr. Smith instructed the plaintiffs to purchase on his account 250 shares of dend on the stock is to be cut on account of poor earnings. The earnings during the summer were not so large as expected, but it has been understood on pretty good authority that during the past two worths or more thore here here level. months or more there have been plenti-ful business and excellent profits. No official statement could be elicited regard-ing the dividend, but many conservative people will continue to expect the usual 8 per cent rate until they are officially notified to the contrary.

Federal Steel was the strong feature today as Tennessee Coal and Iron was the weak one. It advanced to above 51.

United States Rubber was weak again. The tips to buy the stock a few days ago were costly to those that followed in m. It is now said that the dividend on the preferred stock may be passed.

There is talk in important quarters of a probable advance in Northern Pacific, commen, in the near future, but it is not likely that it will occur in the face of weak-ness in the general marks; it was a second to be seen in the last occur in the face of weakness in the general market if such is to be the tendency. The stock declined fraclionally today. The Street is full of tips.
One today was to the effect that a dividend of i per cent annually is to be declared on Missouri Pacific next month. The month that did not produce the Missouri Pacific

Sage set the example of promising this dividend in a most positive way a year or more ago and since that time many others have followed him.

The Atchisons were both strong early in the morning. Later they went off somewhat. The preferred stock is as firmly entrenched as a 5 per cent dividend payer as almost any stock on the list, having a surplus of nearly 7 per cent over the dividend according to its present earning rate. The common may lag somewhat for a few weeks, it is thought, owing to the failure of the directors to declare any dividend yesterday.

Many investors are turning their attention to Missouri, Kansas, and Texas, preferred. The earnings of the company during November were the largest for that month in the history of the company during the largest for that ing November were the largest for that month in the history of the company. A dividend of 5 per cent could be paid on the preferred stock if the management should see fit, with a surplus remaining for the common. This, of course, will rot be done, but the outlook for the stock is excellent.

The local traction shares were notably weak in the early dealings and there was a further 'ery sharp break in Tennessee Coal and Iron. The industrial quarter generally was reactionary, including Sugar Refining.

The declines in the railway list were for the most part fractional, and New York Central and the Nickel Plate issues were decidedly firm, as were the Erie thares.

Frank Steward Arrested on Complaint of William Nixon.

Frank Steward, an electrican, twenty-six years of age, was arrested this afternoon by Detectives Weedon and Parham and locked up on a charge of false pretences. William Nixon, of 1644 Tenth Street northwest, is the complainant. Mr. Nixon charges that Steward visited him Thursday and secured $6 for which he was to receive a ton of coal. Steward is said to have represented himself as an agent of William J. Zeh, and when the coal was not delivered Mr. Zeh was communicated with and disclaimed all knowledge of the man. From contracts and blanks found on him when he was arrested it appears that he was operating an endless chain coupon system.
